

Dan Clark and family arrived from Melville Saturday evening for a visit with Mr. Clark's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Clark. The latter's mother also came along for a stay with her son. It is not an every day occurrence to have four generations of one family housed under the same roof and it is worthy of comment. Mr. Clark owns and operates a farm near Melville and judging from his jocular disposition is prospering. He returned to that country Monday.
