

SCHOOL NOTES

(By a High School Student)

A very interesting debate was the chief attraction at the Literary on Friday evening. The question was warmly argued by both sides and was finally decided in favor of the affirmative by the judges. Some outside talent, including a choice reading by Mrs. Tucker and two fine instrumental solos rendered by Miss Fulton, were greatly enjoyed. Miss Kaiser and Prof. Ross of the faculty also contributed to the evening's entertainment. The meeting was very well attended.

Arbor day was observed Friday by the lower grades who planted flowers and extended further labors in beautifying the campus.

* *

The students find it hard to remain in school during these beautiful days and are fervently wishing for vacation.

* *

The Sophomores are regretfully laying Caesar's remains to rest this week.

* *

The Grammar grades are contemplating a blow-out for one of these fine days which will consist chiefly of fried chicken and auto riding, as far as we can make out.

Miss Cravath visited under the parental roof Sunday and Monday and one of the high school girls was obliged to be "school marm" for that day.

Since the purchase of the new telescope, the chief topics of conversation have been the moon and Halley's comet.
