

SCHOOL OPENS MONDAY

FALL AND WINTER TERM WILL COMMENCE SEPTEMBER 5TH.

School will commence in the Courtenay High School and the various departments next Monday, the 5th of September, for organization and the enrollment of pupils, though actual school work will only begin Tuesday on account of Monday being Labor Day. A full corps of instructors have been engaged, and, with the exception of two, are teachers who have not taught here before.

Rev. J. W. Kingston has been engaged as principal for the coming term and being so well known here as an expounder of the gospel and an all 'round good fellow, needs no introduction to the public. His qualifications, geniality of character and yet withall a strict disciplinarian makes him pre-eminently fitted for the responsible position and we predict there will be no marble games during school hours while he is at the head of the school.

Miss Hazel Orcott has been engaged for the position of first assistant principal. She comes well recommended as a teacher of high class order and will no doubt give good satisfaction.

Miss Cecelia Whelan has taught in the Kensal schools and the good people of our neighboring town to the west speak of her in the highest terms. She will be second assistant principal.

The seventh and eighth grade room will be again presided over by Miss Hannah L. Conway who had the same room throughout the last school term. The fact that she has been offered the same position is ample proof that her previous work has been appreciated and found satisfactory.

Miss Gertrude Bergen has been re-engaged for the fifth and sixth grade room. She taught here last winter throughout the full term and the board unquestionably found her work of such high order as to make a re-engagement desirable.

Miss Sue O'Laughlin, who will teach the third and fourth room, comes well recommended and is highly spoken of a young lady of estimable character and well qualified to perform the duties involved in teaching.

Hilda Anderson will teach the primary department and also instruct in music. She taught in the Kensal schools the past term and those who had occasion to know say that she is "all there" when it comes to inculcating the minds of the little tots with the first rudiments of the English A, B, C.

The board has spared no pains to engage only teachers who come well recommended as teachers of high quality both in mental and educational fitness as well as unreproachable in moral character and they are to be commended upon their tireless efforts to secure the best teachers obtainable.

ALL WILL UNITE IN TEDDY'S WELCOME

HIS HOME COMING TO NORTH DAKOTA WILL BE A STATE-WIDE EVENT—FOSTER SON OF THE STATE.

Bismarck Tribune: North Dakotans will give Colonel Roosevelt a warm hearted reception at Fargo, irrespective of politics or other consideration but that of doing honor to a great public man. Mr. Roosevelt is a sort of foster son of North Dakota. He came out here when a young man in the twenties, and went buffalo hunting out in the valley of the little Missouri river. Liking the
