

C. I. Crossley, who has been the local agent for the Soo, resigned his position yesterday and the auditor of the company arrived to check up the books and found everything in good shape. A. Bachlund of Nashua, Minn., has been assigned for this point and is now in active charge. Mr. Crossley has made no definite arrangements for the future but will, perhaps, accept a similar position at some western point. During his brief stay here he has made many friends by his pleasing and accommodating service as agent. So, after all, there is nothing in a name, since he was not disposed to be as crossly inclined as the name would seem to imply.
