
The old Kieran farm north of town, owned by A. J. Gorthy, was sold to J. McDonald, of Kenssl, the deal being consummated yesterday. It is a good half-section farm with fair improvements and is about the average run of farms in this vicinity. Consideration was $45 per acre. In view of the supposedly hard times and the scarcity of money and shortage of crops the season just past it again emphasizes the fact that land tributary to Courtenay is in demand by the shrewd investor.