

L. Hancock has closed up his barber shop and gone into partnership with George Kuch and they expect to run the shop together. Both are first class barbers and the public may rest assured of getting good service.