

---

Russell Kellogg, the five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kellogg, had the misfortune this forenoon to fall from the Farmers elevator. Just how the accident happened no one knows since no eye-witnesses were present and, up to the time of going to press the little fellow had not regained consciousness and very little could be told of the extent of the injuries sustained. It is confidently hoped however, that no developments will arise to retard complete recovery.

---