

George Maynard, who lives west of town, had the misfortune to lose his large barn by fire of unknown origin last Monday night. Thirteen horses, which were inside of the barn at that time were also burned. The fire was not discovered until well under way and it was impossible to save the animals.

A new barn has been built on