

Carl Nelson, who has been seriously ill at his father's home for several weeks with what was thought to be typhoid fever is reported as having recovered sufficiently to be able to move about.