

Last weeks issue of the Hanford Enterprise contained an announcement of Eskil Olson who is in the painting and paper-hanging business of that enterprising little city and its appearance is giving evidence that he is prospering. Mr. Olson is well known here having worked at his trade for sometime before going to his present location and a good many remember him as one of the best wrestlers that ever visited this town.