

A new barn has been built on the Joe Walker farm north of town on the site of the old barn which was completely wrecked during the storm which recently played such havoc in that neighborhood. The new barn has been built larger and stronger and will be a fine addition to Mr. Walker's farm buildings. The insurance carried on the barn, which was paid promptly by the company, helps considerably towards meeting the cost of the new building.