

Mack Turner returned from Ontario a short time ago with his bride and it is reported that the boys had some fun with Mack over the event—as soon as they got him located—but it is said that he is a good dodger and evaded the boys for some time. For several nights after his return he and his bride stayed at the home of Mr. Bradford, but one evening they were later than usual in going over and Mr. Bradford's people had all gone to bed when they arrived. Rather than disturb them they thought they would return home
