

J. B. Durkee had the misfortune while working on the roof of the bakery building which was moved Wednesday to slip down the roof, and is now laid up with a badly sprained ankle.