

O. L. Langworthy's automobile was placed on the dry dock on Wednesday afternoon. While Mr. Langworthy was on his way to Kensal in the morning he had the misfortune to strike a rock in the road and the front part of the machine was considerably damaged. When he struck the rock the front axel broke letting the front of the machine down and it then turned over.