

Pleasantview Notes

Can anyone tell us when we will have spring? If so don't be backward about telling us.

Mac Turner got back from the woods Friday. He drove most of the way and had a pleasant trip the roads were so good.

Mrs. W. W. Bemis is on the sick list but is slowly improving under the skillful treatment of Dr. Piper.

Miss Pearl Bemis came home last week from Jamestown, where she has been attending school, to wait on her mother.

Fred Kline has laid aside the birch and is doing hard manual labor for W. W. Bemis. Anything to earn an honest penny eh Fred.

Miss Bessie Ferman visited Miss Annie Moore last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ede visited at William Bradford's on Saturday.

Sever Bergstad returned last week from Minnesota. Glad to see you back Sever.

Taylor Hutchison entertained his friends at his residence on Friday evening. Dancing was the passtime and all enjoyed themselves immensely.

Miss Stella Sloan returned from Iowa on March 25th. She is visiting at Mrs. Ralph Hall's at present.

This vicinity was suddenly awakened out of its habitual calm by the sudden death of Mrs. Samuel Salmon on April 1st. She had been very feeble for two or three years but death came very suddenly and unexpectedly and she passed away to her long rest. Elizabeth Bunnel was born in Davis county, Indiana, November 22d, 1826. She was married in 1846 to Samuel Salmon of Ohio. From there they moved to Wisconsin where they resided until two years ago when they came to North Dakota. She leaves an aged husband and four children to mourn her loss. The remains were buried in the Ryum cemetery.
