

Pleasantview Notes

Our cold weather has moderated considerably.

Tom Bradford and Art Ede returned from Fargo where they had been attending the farmers convention. The boys say that Fargo is all right but when it comes to a lively and wide-awake town Fargo is not in it with Moorhead and they said they rode on the street car across the bridge with a clear conscience.

Mack Turner and wife and John Bradford drove up on Sunday and attended services at the Free Methodist church.

Rev. Kline has decided to continue the revival work at the church. Mrs. Kline is assisting him and they expect the presiding elder, Rev. Barum, to come and assist them in the meetings. Let the good work continue.

Ned Bond left on Monday for Seattle where he expects to remain till spring and will then go to Plush, Oregon, where his brother Edward owns a large ranch. Well Ned you will just be away about six weeks and then you will be coming back to North Dakota as fast as the express can carry you.

Charlie Connels returned home on Friday from Minnesota where he had been visiting friends.

Say, you fellows, did you ever hear of a young man who droye three miles to take a young lady to church and then did not have grit enough to ask her to go with him. Well, I guess yes.

Miss Anna Bond visited Miss Bradford last week.

Charles B. Still and wife have returned from Pennsylvania where they had been visiting their friends. After being absent from that country for twenty years Charlie says North Dakota is good enough for him.
