

Ole Michaelson, one of the best known residents of the Helena neighborhood, died at his home on Tuesday morning of last week of tuberculosis of the lungs. He had been in poor health for some time and the end was not unexpected. Mr. Michaelson is well known in Courtenay where he owned the building on the corner across the street from Lundeen's store and run a hotel there. For the past two or three years he had been farming in Dover township but did much of his trading here. He was 45 years of age and leaves a large family to mourn his loss. Funeral services were held last Friday at Mabel church.
