We made a flying visit to E. M. Ayrea's farm Monday morning. We found one of the neatest and finest of prairie homes in the county. Mr. Ayrea has eight acres of young trees that are just growing for all that they are worth. He has an elegant looking crop and Alex. Urquhart is now erect for him a large barn and granary 44 x 48. Mr. Ayrea has recently purchased the southwest quarter of section eight, forty acres of which he has already fenced as a pasture. Ed. is a hard worker and his premises show it and it looks as though North Dakota was prospering him anyhow.
