

C. C. McDonald died at 11:40 Wednesday night from consumption. He had been growing worse for the past year, but was confined to his bed only for the past two months. He showed remarkable vitality, and lived much longer than was expected. He was landlord of the Palace Hotel and was much liked and respected by the boarders and public generally. He leaves one daughter to mourn his loss. His body was taken to Wisconsin, this morning, for interment, in charge of Mr. J. C. Hazard and the daughter, Miss Ava McDonald.
