It is our sad duty to announce the death of Mrs. C. H. Owen, which occurred last evening at six o'clock. Mrs. Owen had been sick for more than a week, but it was not until the last two or three days that she was supposed to be in danger. Mrs. Owen was a lady universally esteemed, and in her death her stricken husband and daughter and other near and dear relatives have received a crushing blow, the weight of which will prove a heavy burden for many a long day. The whole community condoles with them in their bereavement.—Enterprise.
