

---

“There is another new coon in town,” sang Si Black last Saturday morning. The occasion for this outburst of song on the part of Mr. Black was explained when he said on inquiry that a new girl arrived at his house the night before.

---