

✓ While the train was about five miles ✓ out of Sanborn on the return trip Monday, Fireman Reid espied a large black dog sneaking through some weeds close to the track. His imagination got away with him then, for he instantly yelled to Engineer Buckley that a black bear was by the track and wanted to go back and give chase. The train was stopped, and Reid armed with a coal shovel and followed by some of the passengers he started for the bear only to discover that it was a large shaggy dog.
When our readers learn that a little daughter had arrived at Mr. Reid's home that morning they will readily see why he imagined he saw bears or anything else.
