

Wedding Bells.

At 7 o'clock p. m., last Wednesday evening, May 2d, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Howell, of Tower City, N. D., Franklin A. Haskell and Miss Almira Sansburn were united in the holy bonds of wedlock by Rev. S. Whitford, of Tower City. The ceremony took place in the presence of the relatives of the bride and a few intimate friends. It was a very beautiful and homelike affair and in a very few brief moments this happy young couple were pronounced man and wife and were soon receiving the hearty congratulations of those present. The bride is well known in Griggs county, having taught school several terms around the county, and is a very popular young lady and has a host of friends who wish her much happiness. Franklin A. Haskell, the bridegroom, needs no introduction to our readers. He is engaged at present in the general store business and is an upright exemplary young man, whose friends are legion. He is the only son of Capt. and Mrs. A. Haskell. The happy couple have gone right to house-keeping, and start out with happy prospects before them, and the whole community joins in extending hearty congratulations. Those present at the wedding outside of the family were and Mrs. P. R. Trubshaw, Cooperstown; Mr. and Mrs. Chilson, Mr. and Mrs. Clement, Mrs. Rose and Miss Laura Donahoe, of Tower City. The wedding was under the auspices of the bride's sister, Mrs. Howell who, together with her genial husband, left no stone unturned to make the occasion a happy and fitting one.
