

---

Albert Frick, a well digger, working for W. W. Archer, had his left arm broken in three places, Tuesday, while digging in a well at a depth of forty-five feet. The sides of the well caved in, breaking his arm as above stated, and Mr. Frick done well to escape with his life. Dr. Wanner reduced the fractures.

---