During the ball game last Friday Bee Kuhns got hit in the eye with the ball, severely injuring his optic, and closing it up for a few days. Luckily no bones were broken neither was the eyeball injured, and we expect his optic is about all right again.