

M. L. Ruggles dropped in Wednesday morning to inform the Courier that there were five boys at his home. Louis was a little bit rattled and meant that a new boy baby arrived at his home Wednesday morning, which makes five boys all told.