

What came near being a very serious accident happened at the home of C. M. Kribbs Friday. D. Berlin called on an errand in a two-horse wagon, accompanied by his little three year old son. While the team was standing Mr. Kribbs' little two year old girl clambered in and soon after the team ran away with the two children. The little boy was thrown out in front of the wagon, which had about a ton of load on. The mystery is how he escaped being instantly killed, but in some unaccountable manner he escaped being crushed and reports are that his collar bone was broken in two places. The little girl stuck to the wagon and was not hurt in the least. The team was caught without further mishap.—
Courtenay Correspondent.