

---

Oscar Olson, the five year old son of Jacob Olson, was kicked by a colt the other day. His nose was broken and the scalp torn clear out from between the eyes up the forehead. Dr. Bergstrom dressed the wounds and he is doing as well as could be expected. The little fellow went into the pasture and struck the colt with a stick and the colt resented the action of the stick and kicked with the above result.