

George Newberry received a telegram from Rev. J. M. Taylor Tuesday, stating that his father-in-law, Mr. Thomas G. Gimblett, was dead. The deceased had been ailing for some time, and a little over a year ago experienced a very severe attack of sickness from which it was expected he could not recover. He did however, but has been in feeble health ever since, although able to get around. The deceased was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church of this place, and was a sincere and devoted Christian. He was seventy-six years old last Feb. He leaves quite a family of grown-up children—Mrs. Geo. Newberry, Mrs. C. A. Hall, Mrs. J. M. Taylor, Mrs. W. Glaspell, Rev. W. H. Gimblett, Thomas Gimblett, all in North Dakotand and James Gimblett of Hamline, Minn., and the oldest son, Robert, who lives at Hamilton, Ont., Canada. The remains were brought from Oakes to Cooperstown for interment yesterday, and the funeral was held in the M. E. church, Rev. B. A. Burns officiating. The remains were laid to rest in the Cooperstown cemetery. The deceased was an old pioneer in this county, and was highly respected by all who knew him.
