

Judge Warner is again the happy father of a bouncing baby boy, the young man arriving last Tuesday afternoon. The Courier congratulates Mr. and Mrs. Warner on this acquisition to the family. The judge says that the boy has a birthmark of a McKinley button, which establishes his politics for all time to come.