

Mr. and Mrs. A. Haskell had been married thirty-five years last Thursday, and to make the event one to be remembered, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Haskell assisted by the old veterans and their wives and other members of the family put up a surprise party on the "old folks" last Thursday evening that was a genuine surprise and no mistake. When Mr. and Mrs. Haskell returned home along about 8 p. m., after calling on Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Johnson, who somehow or other failed to be at home, they found a very enthusiastic and merry crowd occupying the house to welcome them. In addition to various amusements during the evening, the company was served to a very delightful lunch, and the Captain and his wife were given an easy chair each as mementos of the occasion. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Purinton, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. David Ward, Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Stork, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Lewis, Mrs. F. S. Haskell, Mr. E. C. Butler and Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Trubshaw and Miss Maude.
