It gives the Courier great pleasure this week to chronicle the marriage of Mr. Andrew Hemerline to Miss Jennie Howden, both of Cooperstown, which event took place yesterday afternoon, November 1st, 1899, at 2 p. m., at the home of the bride's mother in Cooperstown, Rev. B. A. Burns performing the ceremony which linked these two lives together. The bride is one of Cooperstown's popular ladies, having for several years past operated a dress making establishment. She is a lady who has made for herself many friends since she came to Cooperstown. Mr. Hemerline is a member of the machine firm of Olsen, Cox & Co., of this place, and is a popular and upright citizen. The newly married couple have settled down to housekeeping in the Van Voorhis house, and the Courier joins a host of friends in wishing them a long and prosperous life. The wedding was a quiet home affair, only the contracting parties and relatives being present.
