

Diphtheria has been having quite a run in the northern part of Statsman county and in portions of Foster and Welis counties. The disease is among Russian settlers principally, brought on from neglect of proper sanitary measures. Up to the last report sent out by the health officers there have been forty case and eleven deaths. The authorities think that they have the disease well in hand.