

David Ward met with an accident last Monday that will be the means of laying him up for a long time if it does not cripple him for life. He was on a car down by the depot unloading wood for S. A. Lewis. The railroad locomotive was switching around and came down on the siding on which the car was located and bumped into the car on which Mr. Ward stood throwing him down and at the same time scaring the horse which was hitched to the wagon along side the car. The horse ran away and Ward, who had hold of the lines, did not let go and he was pulled from the car to the ground sustaining a broken hip bone. He was picked up and carried into Mr. Lewis' house and Doctors Tymms and Bergstrom were called in. The patient is doing as well as could be expected but will be incapacitated from further work for a long time to come. The friends of Mr. Ward hope that the injury is only of a temporary character.
