

Thomas, second son of Mrs J. Hill, of Hannaford, passed quietly away at 9:30 Monday night after five long weeks of suffering from a complication of diseases, which baffled the skill of all physicians. Immediate cause of death was the bursting of a small blood vessel in the brain.

“And there shall be no sorrow there.”