

A son of Erick Watne, living in the Jessie neighborhood, died last Thursday from consumption. We have learned none of the particulars as to his sickness or burial.