

Knut Kalvik died very suddenly from heart failure Monday morning, Feb. 10. The rural carrier had just brought the mail and Mr. Kalvik was reading it when the attack came. The doctor was summoned but of course could do nothing as Mr. Kalvik had already expired. The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 16.