

Col. H. T. Mayne, the blind magazine solicitor who has visited Hannaford for several years past, died at Minot a week ago, of pneumonia. Mr. Mayne was a well educated man, and had become so well acquainted with his routes that he traveled alone, and had a large number of customers who always waited for him.