

Hans Westley, who some weeks ago went to St. Louis with his little boy who was to be treated for infantile paralysis at a sanatorium, returned to their home near Coopers-town last week, and it is reported that the child died soon after returning home.