

LUNDE-WESTLEY NUPTIALS

On Wednesday last at the beautiful home on the groom's father, Martin Lunde, southwest of Cooperstown, occurred the marriage of Miss Olive Westley to Betuel M. Lunde.

The ceremony was held in the fine grove near the house, and the natural beauty of the place, the clear, bright day, the tasteful decorations, and the presence of many happy friends and relatives of the contracting couple, all helped to form a scene and an occasion that will long be remembered by those present. To the strains of the Bridal Chorus of Lohengrin, played by Miss Jeanette Westley, the bride, with Karen Lunde as bridesmaid, and the groom, with Martin Westley as best man, took their places and were united in the bonds of matrimony by Rev. H. F. Josephson. The wedding was witnessed by a large number of relatives and a few of the close friends of the parties.

The bride was becomingly attired in white and carried a bouquet of white roses. The groom wore the conventional black. After the ceremony the couple were congratulated and extended the best wishes of all present, after which a dainty lunch was served. The rest of the afternoon and evening was delightfully spent by the guests in playing games of various kinds and enjoying and listening to music by the band, speeches, songs and other entertainment. Supper was served in the house the room and tables being prettily decorated with carnations, and other fragrant flowers.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Westley of this village. She is a young lady of many accomplishments and enjoys the esteem of old and young alike. The groom is a member of the Hannaford Mercantile Co., who by his many admirable qualities makes friends wherever he goes. The newly-weds went on a wedding trip to Minneapolis after which they will establish their home in Hannaford.

The Enterprise joins their many friends in extending congratulations and best wishes.
