

Judging from the appearance of his face these days Roy Richardson might be suspected of having attempted to administer a beating to Jack Johnson and got the worst of the encounter. He was working near a gasolene engine at Harris' place last Thursday when the belt came off, striking Roy in the face bruising his right eye and breaking his nose. His injuries have been well bandaged and Roy will soon be as good as ever.