

While Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Olsen were driving to Valley City Monday, one of the traces became unhooked allowing the pole to drop. Fred did a high dive over the dashboard and the team parted company with the buggy and did a record breaking stunt toward their destination, but got tangled up in a tree claim and were caught. No damage except to the pole, but it was a narrow escape.