Mrs. Richard Biggs Dead.

A telegram was received Tuesday from Engineer Richard Biggs of the N. P., stating that Mrs. Biggs had died the morning of the day previous at the home of her parents in Berkeley, Cal. The sad news was not altogether a surprise inasmuch as she has been ailing for the past five years. The lady was born in Fargo, being the daughter of L. M. Nelson, one of the early settlers of Fargo, who moved to Berkeley, Cal., about fifteen years ago. Her maiden name was Minnie Nelson.

Mrs. Biggs visited her parents a number of times at their California home and when the cold weather set in about a month ago, she went to them. She leaves a loving husband and two daughters to mourn her sad taking away, the eldest of the daughters being now fifteen years of age. The many friends of the bereaved husband and children will extend their sympathy to the bereaved ones.
