

Sudden Death.

Mr. A. G. Gulman, sixty-three years of age, died very suddenly last Saturday morning of heart failure, at his home north of this village.

He got up and informed his wife that he felt very sick and asked her to build a fire, as he was chilly. He put on his coonskin coat and laid down on the bed. A messenger was sent for Dr. Lang, but the old gentleman was dead before the physician could get there.

The funeral will take place from the Norwegian Lutheran church tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. A. K. Lokrem, pastor, officiating.

Some time since the deceased donated a plot of ground on his farm to the Lutheran church of this place for a burying ground, and his own body is the first to be interred therein.

Mr. A. G. Gulman was born in Norway, October 13, 1841, and came with his parents to America in 1851. Lived three years in Wisconsin, then in Fillemore county, Minnesota. In June, 1870, he moved to Yellow Medicine county, Minnesota, and took the first claim in the town of Norman. In the same year he was married to Annie Lawrence. He lived in Yellow Medicine county for thirty-three years. About two years ago he sold his old home and departed for Sanborn, North Dakota, where he lived at the time of his death. His wife and nine children survive him.
