

---

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leggy, who live about twelve or fifteen miles northwest of town, had been ailing for several days, but was taken very much worse Monday night about midnight. Tuesday morning the parents started for Sanborn to consult a physician, but the little child died on the way.

---