

A bright little Miss appeared Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Bell. Papa Bell receives the congratulations of his friends with becoming modesty, yet there appears to be an undercurrent of excitement, not to say nervousness, in his demeanor, and should there be an unusual number of "breaks" in The Enterprise this week we hope our readers will criticize with leniency, as the whole force seems to be more or less affected by the happy event. Little Miss Bell is cordially adopted into The Enterprise family, and hearty congratulations are extended to Papa and Mamma Bell.
