

Frank Knable and Mrs. Houseman were married in Valley City yesterday morning and returned on No. 7. Their friends must have given them a warm reception last night, judging from the noise that arose from the direction of their domicile. Sergeant Frank must have thought a band of Moro insurgents was after him. Their congratulations were decidedly loud.

---