

Orville Thornberg had an accident with one of Shafer & Moe's teams today by which one of his hands was slightly injured. He turned too short, the buggy upset and he was thrown out in front of the horses. As he arose the team started to run and the pole struck him and knocked him down and horses and buggy passed over him. It was fortunate he was not more seriously hurt. It is only a short time since that Mr. Thornberg was kicked by a horse and laid up for a few days.