

DAZEY.

A. A. Gad returned last week from a visit to McHenry.

The new restaurant is well started now and bids fair to be successful.

Sullivan, optical specialist, of Fargo, at Kindred hotel again April 26 and 27.

Work has begun on the M. E. church, a new roof and a belfry being among the improvements contemplated.

Committees of citizens met at the bank last Thursday evening to consider further the steps necessary to incorporation.

Mrs. Geo. Colville has been quite seriously sick but is now reported much better. Her many friends hope for her speedy recovery.

Messrs. Abbott and Brown have been down here for some days renewing acquaintances. They have spent the winter near Cooperstown.

The choir of the M. E. church is being reorganized and enlarged. Two or three instruments wind, and stringed, will probably be added to assist the organ.

Rev. L. M. Halling, of Valley City, conducted services in the Lutheran church last Sunday. It was announced that services would be held there again in four weeks.

R. E. Lee sustained an injury to his knee last Saturday. At last report he was well on the road to recovery. The pesky dog that caused the fall will never recover if he gets caught.

D. N. Anderson has been frescoing the Lutheran church in fine shape. Now he is putting on two paintings of Scriptural scenes, the one of Christ and the woman at the well, and the other of the river Jordan.

At a recent meeting of the school board we understand that it was decided to inaugurate the free text book system now in vogue in the majority of schools in the county, to begin next fall.

Mr. Donovan, a brother of Mrs. A. A. Gad, recently arrived from New Hampton, Iowa, and is down from McHenry visiting Mr. Gad. Mr. Donovan is a skilled dairyman, and will probably take charge of the creamery which is being located at the end of the line.