

DAZEY.

Gas Langer went to Sanborn Saturday.

A. Thurston took Saturday's train for Rogers.

R. E. Lee went to Valley City, returning Sunday.

John O'Reilly sold his farm on the Sheyenne last week.

A. O. LaValley was in Valley City on business a couple of days last week.

O. Oppegard went to Valley City Saturday, returning the first part of the week.

Geo. Lee did not go to Hot Springs last week as reported, but postponed his trip until this week.

Ray Thurston and "Bud" Gray came up from Valley City Friday, returning Saturday evening.

Some of the enterprising implement dealers have already commenced to sell their stock of machinery.

A. J. MacInnes has returned from a visit to Canada of some two months. He reported a most enjoyable time.

E. A. Duff is hauling lumber for a new set of buildings for his farm on section 33, just north of here, in Griggs county.

Mrs. Wright will move out with her family this week to the Hyde farm near Hannaford. Her son Andrew will manage the place.

Louis Mossige, our local horse dealer, left Tuesday for the Devils Lake country where he expects to dispose of a batch of his horses.

J. L. LaValley informs us that in addition to those mentioned here there are several other families coming up here this spring from Iowa and Illinois.

"Fatty Felix" has been employed by the Colville Bros. at their livery and feed barn. Billy Bounce is said to be negotiating for a large job at painting.

J. C. Brennan, of Morris, Minn., has rented of Wije and LaValley for a term of five years the large farm recently purchased by them, of Andrew Thurston. He comes with plenty of machinery and horses, and is ready for business.

Mrs. R. E. Lee received the sad intelligence last Sunday that her mother is in a critical condition and is not expected to live. She lives at Webster City, Iowa. Mrs. Lee has the sympathy of her many friends here in this, the hour of her bereavement.

H. R. Leid, of Moorhead, who owns a couple of farms in this vicinity, is here for the purpose of buying seed grain for his farm lands at this point as well as his large farm at Moorhead. He believes in stock, and thinks that sheep can be fed and raised here at a profit.

One of the young men of Dazey had a rather sad accident lately while taking a young lady out to her home in the country. While stopping at a place on the way, the horses got off so thoroughly that they with what was left of the outfit were not found until one or two days later.

Herman Hoffman, of Vandalia, Ill., who purchased a half section of land from Wije and LaValley, last fall, is expected daily to arrive with his family and the stock for operating same. Mr. Hoffman's family will be quite an addition to our locality, there being three grown sons and several daughters.

"The Woodmen's Picnic," which was presented here last Friday evening, came off very successfully. The weather was good and the hall was crowded to the doors. Home talent plays are evidently appreciated here. All did well, and special mention of any individual characters would be superfluous.

Charles Jager and Harry Smith, of Freeport, Ill., are expected the first of the week to move in on the Dotting farm located between Rogers and Dazey, which they purchased of Wije and LaValley last fall. These gentlemen come well equipped with horses and other stock and will make a fine addition to our new settlers, being men that are used to farming in the older states, consequently bringing new and improved ideas with them.

Friday evening, March 18, the Dazey Dramatic company will present the celebrated war drama, "From Sumter to Appomattox," at Society hall. From the interest manifested in its preparation, a good attendance is expected. Quite a number of reserved seats tickets have been sold in advance. The proceeds will go to the public library. There will not be any more home talent plays here this year, so no one can afford to miss this opportunity to see a first class play put on in an uptodate manner. Admission for grown ups is 50 cents, and Druggist Gallegly will reserve your seat.
